

Valia Kelidou, Communication Manager at extra virgin olive oil KYKLOPAS

Valia Kelidou grew up surrounded by olive trees. She is the oldest daughter of the family that produce Kyklopas extra virgin olive oil. All roads in her life seemed to lead her to better understand this sacred ancient tree by studying Agriculture. She contributes to the mill from a more scientific perspective and she follows and applies all the new trends and methods in cultivation. On top of that, she graduated from Journalism School and has been involved for years in Radio, Television and Printed Press so all social media communication goes through her. If you want to get in touch with us, she will surely be the one to serve you with a smile!
