

Alexander Tokas, who is part of the Kyklopas family, is obsessed with quality. His mission is to showcase the aromas of Kyklopas olive oils and to promote our region's extraordinary Makri olive variety. He remains up-to-date with the latest through seminars as a qualified olive oil taste tester and ensures the implementation of best practices during harvest time. He applies optimal conditions to production, including filtration and storage. Kyklopas' numerous global awards for taste and quality alone proves his calibre.
